

How Well is Our Team Working? *

This quick assessment will let you know whether your team is moving forward, backward, or at a standstill and spinning their wheels.

	Yes	Maybe	No
We agree on the vision of the project and are committed to making it succeed.
We have a clear plan to reach the project goal.
We know the risks to our plan and monitor them carefully. We have contingency plans in place.
Everyone knows their role on the team. And each team member is well suited to their role.
We communicate as frequently as needed to meet the project goal.
We communicate in an open, honest, respectful way.
We show appreciation for each other's contributions.
We trust each other.
We talk about how we can improve as a team.
We are able to resolve conflicts between team members.
We have smooth transitions when members leave or join the team.
Our team leader can keep us engaged and motivated.

*Adapted from Center for Executive Coaching.